Dear Corbin:

I take great pride in congratulating you for achieving the rank of Eagle Scout. Your district and council are indeed proud of you and your accomplishment.

As you know, the Eagle Badge is Scouting's highest award. Being an Eagle carries with it a tremendous obligation and responsibility... an obligation to continue to live up to the Scout Oath and Law and to keep them ever before you in the future.

The Eagle Scout Badge will be the most recognized award you'll ever receive. Business, industry, government and everyone else in this nation knows that an Eagle Scout is a person who stands for service to his fellow man... a person with an understanding and love for his country, who is willing to stand up for freedom and the democratic way of life.

Finally, an Eagle Scout is a person who has strength of character, a belief in God and is a leader among leaders. You represent the highest ideals that Scouting proclaims. Wear your Eagle Badge proudly.

Congratulations again on your accomplishment.

Sincerely,

Brick Huffman
Scout Executive

Proudly serving youth in nineteen counties in eastern-Kansas and western-Missouri.
